

REMEMBERING

Dorothy Susan "Sue" Goldberg
2/5/1933 – 8/7/2013

Dorothy Susan "Sue" Butzow Goldberg, accomplished weaver, globetrotter, cat lover, and adored mother, grandmother, aunt and friend, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, Aug. 7, 2013 in San Diego, CA.

Sue was the most senior member of the Westfield Weavers Guild in 2013. She joined in 1964. She served as president in 1966-67 and again in 1988-90. While in California she kept in touch with the Guild via email always sending notes wishing that she could be with them for their programs and special events.

Sue's love of art took her many places, and connected her with kindred spirits who became lifelong friends. Her most memorable experiences included a summer at the Haystack Mountain School of Crafts in Maine, and a two-year stint working in New York City for the internationally-renowned textile designer Jack Lenor Larsen.

After over 40 years and many wonderful memories in N.J., she retired to San Diego -- a place Sue often referred to as "paradise." She embraced retirement and became active with the Palomar Handweavers' Guild, tutored school children in reading, volunteered at the Mingei International Museum, got season tickets to the opera, traveled the world and became an amateur photographer. Some of her most memorable trips were to China, the Galapagos Islands, Mexico and Costa Rica. She made the most of her 80 years by living life to the fullest.
